ROAST FEST OF REPUBLICANS

Was What the Prohibition District and County Convention Amounted to.

ELECTED VARIOUS OFFICERS

But Remainder of the Day Was "Profitably" Spent Whaling
the G. O. P.

The Prohis of the Sixth congressional district met here today in the assembly room at the court house, and despite the threatening "wet" weather, had a big time of it. They elected county officers and district officers, but the principal pastime that they indulged in was talking. If there is anything a Prohi likes to do, it is to talk. And they talk about people, too! Think of that! They whale the Democrats a little, but the poor Republicans, my! oh my! If you happen to be so unfortunate to to believe in the faith of the G. O. P. they will make you feel so ashamed that you will be ready to "cough it all up." Honestly, you have an experience like you are not an American citizen, or that you have been voting with a lot of anarchists and you feel like you want to take out naturalization papers and begin all over.

The State chairman said neither the Republican or Democratic party would touch the liquor question with a forty-foot pole in the next campaign and that those who favored exterminating the saloon would HAVE to come to the Prohibitionists.

For enthusiasts the Prohis are on a par with Socialists. And they can dream such fantastic and fairy-like dreams as only the Socialist can dream—without taking dope. They are opposed to county option; they are opposed to the anti-saloon league and last, but not least, they are opposed to the Republican party. The last reason is the strongest plank in their platform. It is their chief delight to get into the fight and injure the Republican cause, even though the party backed by the liquor interest wins out through their assistance. They fear for their life now, for they are fast losing strength in their former Gibraltar strongholds. The old parties makes inroads on their number when the temperance question is acute.

"The Black Knight," son of a Zulu chieftain, who is in America, trying to educate the "savages" was the chief drawing card. He made a very good talk. State Chairman Lough and retiring county chairman, Mrs. Laura B. Leonard, made brief and interesting speeches.

W. R. Porter of Connersville was elected district chairman and H. C. Pitts of Rush county, was elected district secretary and treasurer. In the county organization, Rev. Roscoe Smith, pastor of Little Flatrock Christian church, was elected county chairman, and Bert Heaton of Noble township was elected county secretary and treasurer.

Personal Item—The Ananias club attended the convention today in a body and enjoyed the choice morsels of wit and humor dropped by the various speakers.

MAN PAID A VISIT

Everything Lovely and Goose
Hanging High.

A pure food inspector was in Rushville yesterday and made himself "at home" in the various places of business. He expressed himself as being highly pleased with the condition of affairs here, especially in the bakeries, hotels and cafes.

WILL GIVE A PIGKWICK TALK

Frank J. Hall Will Not Likely "Say Much."

Lieutenant-Governor Frank Hall has accepted an invitation, says the Connersville News, from the Model License League to attend the League's convention at Louisville, this week and make an address "embodying his views on the liquor question." As the other name for the Model License League is the Brewery Aid Society, Frank is, of course, expected to say something pleasant.

OFFICERS ON TRAIL OF ARTHUR DRAIS

Eccentric Individual Was in Fairland
And Left His Grips
There.

WERE FILLED WITH BRUSHES.

A supplemental paragraph to the last chapter in the Arthur Drais escapades, says the Shelbyville News, which are referred to so often as to become surfeit, comes from Fairland. Prosecutor John Cheney was informed Tuesday that Drais came to Fairland last Saturday morning. He carried three grips and stopped at the Fairland hotel. Sunday he entrusted the grips to a friend's care and left the town. Monday he had had not returned and the grips were opened. They contained hair and tooth brushes. It is estimated the brushes were worth not less than $100.

The Shelbyville police are searching for Drais and, if captured, efforts will be made to send him to an asylum.

WILL HAVE CHASE AFTER BRER' FOX

First Old Fashioned Chase in This Country For Several Years.

FOXY FOX TO LEAD THE GANG

An old fashioned fox chase will start from Harrisburg, Fayette county, Thursday morning about nine o'clock. An old, long-bodied fox was dug from a deep den in the woods, southwest of that village, several days ago, and is in prime condition for a mighty run. Being old and well seasoned, he is probably full of the tricks that have made his kind famous, and his capture is a very doubtful matter.

About a hundred farmers are expected to take part in this almost obsolete sport. Cross country riding is practically impossible any more, because of the frequency of tall wire fences, but there are several steeds in that locality that have followed the hounds many times before, and their riders, by following roads and lanes, will keep after the dogs as best they may. The event is expected to be a merry one.

BOTH BUYING SPACE.

Greensburg News: Both the saloon and anti-saloon factions have bought advertising space in the News and will furnish material as they see fit, so it is not personal or abusive. The space is rented only for the presentation of arguments, and their friends can be heard from by sending in their views.

TOWN MERSHAL IS A SLICK 'UN

Carthage Has a Sherlock Holmes
Who Works in Pastures
New.

CAUGHT A PAROLED MURDERER

Officer Webb Spreads His "Web" and Now Receives Ffty Dollars
Reward.

James Sweeney, a paroled convict from an Ohio institution, was arrested in Shelby county by B. R. Webb, the hustling town marshal of Carthage. Sweeney had employment on a farm near Shelbyville and was sawing wood—and sayin' nothin'—when arrested. He was taken to Shelbyville and turned over to the warden of the Ohio penitentiary, who came from Columbus when apprised by wire of Sweeney's apprehension. Webb had been on the trail of the convict for several weeks. He receives a reward of $50.

Sweeney was sent to the Ohio penitentiary on a charge of murder. The maximum penalty was fifteen years servitude. A few years in the penal institution led to Sweeney's release on parole. He reported to the warden faithfully for several months, but finally disappeared.

Sweeney eventually went to Shelby county and procured employment on various farms in the county. Nothing in his actions betrayed the secret Sweeney so carefully shielded.

Webb was given no trouble by the prisoner, who readily became reconciled to his fate.

OPTION ELECTION IS ASSURED FACT

Several Hundred More Than the Required Number of Signatures
Have Been Secured.

NUMBER ESTIMATED AT 1600

The latest count of the signers of the petitions being circulated through the county to secure an election under the county option law, according to the advocates, is 1397. There are several petitions which have not been heard from and it is estimated that between 1500 and 1600 voters have placed their signatures on the petitions.

The required number of signers to secure an election is twenty per cent of 5840, the total number of votes cast for the secretary of State at the recent election, or 1170.

Already this number has been exceeded and now an election is an assured fact—if the bill is not repealed. The petitions can not be presented to the board of commissioners until their next meeting which is the first day in February.

MET IN REGULAR SESSION

City Council Allows Claims Amounting to Several Hundred Dollars.

The city council met in regular session last night and allowed claims amounting to several hundred dollars. Over $300 was allowed paying bills caused by the smallpox epidemic. The regular routine of business was gone over.

RIGHT NOW IS THE RIGHT TIME

All Agree That the Present Can Not be Beat For House
Building.

CONDITION OF THE GROUND

Contractors Say It's Fine For Cellar
and Foundation Work—Labor Reasonable, Material Cheap.

A local lumber dealer was asked by the Daily Republican with reference to the advisability of building houses now. The lumber dealer said, "I have inquired of contractors who are building winter jobs as to the condition they have found the ground to be in. Without a dissenting voice I was told that it was never better. The earth is practically dry and foundations can be put in without fear of freezing and there is less danger of settling now than in the spring when the ground is water soaked."

He was asked concerning labor conditions as they exist at present and in reply stated that contractors are having very little trouble in getting carpenters and other mechanics. However, the laboring class as a whole, is working generally.

Another thing to be considered at this time it that building material is cheaper just now than it will be in the spring. There is an upward tendency in the lumber market and this will affect the local retail markets in the course of a few weeks.

WILD WITH GRIEF IS THE SWEETHEART

Connersville Newspaper Says Deceased Fiance is Now Almost Distracted.

REFUSES TO BE CONSOLED

Of the death of Alma Conoway, the Connersville Courier says in part:

"Her intimate friend, Miss Maude Griffin, of this city, left yesterday afternoon for Rushville to attend the funeral.

It seems that an interesting story in connection with this sad affair. The story goes that Miss Conoway had a sweetheart who it is said is now almost distracted with grief by her death. They had been keeping company for sometime, and like others, had become engaged with the hope of a happy future. Her fiancé and herself were anxious for the operation to be performed with the expectancy of a speedy recovery, but fate willed it otherwise and blasted the prospects of the young man who is left to mourn her, and who refuses to be consoled. She had many friends in this city who are sorry to learn of her sad death."

PRICE IS NOW A "LEMON"

Sicily Earthquake Responsible For The Bull Market.

The grocers and fruit dealers of Rushville state that the price of lemons are going up, and that the earthquake in Sicily is responsible for the advance. The great bulk of the lemons used in this country are shipped from Italy, and thousands of bushels were destroyed in the great quake.

THE WAY THEY DO IT THERE

Connersville Merchants Attend State
Meeting En Masse.

Here is the way Connersville merchants do it: but one or two Rushville merchants ever attend: "The Connersville News says: "The State Merchants' Association, which will meet in the Claypool hotel, at Indianapolis, Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday, of this week, will be attended by a large number of local merchants. It is believed that as many as fifty from here will be at the association at some time during the session."

RED LINE BOARD MEET AND ELECT

Annual Meeting of the Stockholders is Held at Traction Terminal
Building.

OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

The board of directors of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company was re-elected yesterday morning at a meeting of the stockholders of the company held in the offices in the Traction Terminal Building, in posed of the following, W. T. Durbin and W. F. Alford of Anderson; Theodore F. Ross and George A. Ball of Muncie and John F. Wild, Charles L. Henry and John J. Appel of Indianapolis. The board of directors re-elected the following officers: President, Charles L. Henry; vice president, Theodore F. Ross; secretary, John F. Wild, and treasurer, John J. Appel.

MILROY CITIZENS SIGN THE PETITION

Very Few Are Opposed to the County
Option Election in That Vicinity.

CIRCULATED BY A. H. JACKMAN

The county option is going big in Anderson township, according to the Milroy Press: "Allen Jackman has the petition calling for an election under the county local option law, and is circulating it in this township. He is meeting with fine success while, of course, there are a few who refuse to sign it. He began Friday morning and up to last night had about 200 names, while 20 per cent of the voters of this township would be only ninety-three.

Skygack in Rushville

Strange Being from the Planet Mars Comes Here and Makes Observations of the Things He Sees and Does Not Understand. They Will Be Read With Interest When He Returns to the Stellar Regions.

Saw female earth being take some male earth being's wearing apparel and put her hand into it, long before the sun was up—or the male earth being either. That same day many female earth beings came to that house. They formed groups and looked at each other, all of them talking and none of them listening to what was being said. Food was served. Most of them ate it and a few put the eating tools in their wearing apparel when they were finished. The tools had different colored pieces of material tied on them, presumably for classic decorations. All were smiling when one arose and began to cry out at the top of her voice while another apparently tried to stop her and make another noise, less aggravating, on a large oblong box-like arrangement with white and black teeth-like things. Whenever one of the female earth beings would leave all the rest of them would talk about that one. Many seemed to fear to leave and thus the affair proved to be a long-drawn out meeting.

SOME CLASS TO THE TOWN GIRLS

Connersville Swains Come Here in Bunches to See Bevy of Beauties.

WE HAVE THE REAL THING

When it Comes to Girls, Rushville
Has All Other Cities in the Discard.

A casual observer on Sunday evening at the corner of Sixth and Central avenue says the Connersville Courier would not think it strange to see seventeen men board the traction car west, or any other number in fact, but when these seventeen gentlemen are recognized as citizens of Connersville it gives rise for serious thought. These young men are now enjoying single blessedness and this state of affairs does not happen on one Sunday night, but every Sunday night. The curiosity of the reader is to know where they go. If a disinterested party had been on the car they would have seen every one of these fellows alight in Rushville and wend their way to various parts of the city. "Girls" was the attraction at the Auditorium last night and it seems that this is the attraction every Sunday night in our neighboring city.

During the smallpox epidemic there, there was only two of these young men, however, who were brave enough and cared enough for their lady loves to keep up their regular weekly visits, the remainder stayed at home. Now since everything is again normal they flock over there as usual. But there is a strange feature of these visits. Some of the number believe in returning home at the conventional hour of 10:30, others at 11:50 while there are three or four that either get quarantined or are lost in the darkness on their way to the station as they don't show up for the last car.

There are no apologies or excuses to make, but when a city like Connersville with so many prepossessing young women as residents let the young men act in this manner they are losing valuable chances of becoming brides.

COUNTY OPTION IN SHELBY

Democrats Behind Movement to Cali
Special Election.

A county option wave was started yesterday afternoon in Shelbyville. The three officers elected were Democrats, who fought the measure at every step before the election. Charles Hack, former prosecuting attorney of Rush and Shelby counties, was chosen as vice chairman.

Shrouds That Libel Suit.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The question of whether or not the federal government or individuals, or both, instituted the proceedings for libel in connection with the Panama canal purchase, still remains a mystery insofar as the general public is concerned.

So completely have the tracks in the complaint been covered that not the slightest intimation has been given which would clear up this important and much discussed point.

The federal grand jury is continuing its investigation into the matter, and a number of witnesses have been examined. Principal among these were Messrs. Douglas Robinson, brother-in-law of President Roosevelt, and Chas.

P. Taft, brother of the president-elect, both of whom maintained the utmost silence regarding their testimony and absolutely refused to say whether they appeared as plaintiffs. All the Washington correspondents who were cited to appear gave information establishing their connection with either the New York World or the Indianapolis News, while several newsmen and a newsboy testified to having sold the paper to the general public. Other witnesses will be called.

The President's Expectation.

Interest in the case continues unabated, and it is now hinted that it is the expectation of the president that an indictment will be brought in the District of Columbia regardless of any action taken in New York or Indianapolis. In that event, the prosecuting officers of the government entertain no fear of their ability to bring here those who may be made the defendants. For many years the decisions in the libel suits against Charles A. Dana, publisher of the New York Sun, which relieved the defendant from the necessity of appearing in Washington to stand trial, stood in the way of actions such as has now been brought.

But, it is contended, a change in the courts and a change in the law have negated those decisions. The government has fortified itself with the decision of District Judge Adams of the United States court for the southern district of New York, of two or three years ago, in the case of the United States against Wimsatt. This case was for conspiracy to defraud a street railway company of the District of Columbia out of car tickets, and the court held that "the removal of the accused from a federal district to the District of Columbia cannot be defeated, because the acts charged in the indictment are common law offenses, the District of Columbia being a part of the United States and the commission of a crime therein being an indictable offense against the United States."

The district code expressly provides for punishment for libel, but the government's legal officers maintain that the definition of a libel must be obtained by resorting to the common law. It therefore leaves no room for doubt that the present inquiry is not based upon any statute but upon the common law, "in the interest of the public welfare."

This Seems to Settle It.

New York, Jan. 20.—The veil of mystery which has enveloped the secret examination before the federal grand jury here of newspapermen and others believed to have knowledge regarding the publication of alleged libelous matter concerning the purchase by the United States of the Panama canal company, would seem to have been lifted by the service of a subpoena upon William J. Dempsey, head of the mailing department of the New York World, commanding his appearance before the federal grand jury to testify "in the matter of the United States against the Press Publishing company," which company publishes the World.

PLAN OF MODEL LIQUOR LAWS

Will be Discussed at the Meeting of the National League Held in Kentucky.

TO TAKE IT OUT OF POLITICS

Is the Purpose of the League—They do Not Advocate Excessive High License.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 20.—To secure the adoption of model liquor laws, as a check to the wave of prohibition and local option that is now sweeping over the country, is the object of the National Model License League, which will commence a three-day session in Louisville tomorrow.

Leaders in the movement inaugurated by the league say radical improvement in the methods of dispensing alcoholic beverages must be made if the liquor business is to remain a legalized institution in many States and express a desire to hear views of those who have plans to bring about improvement.

The league is a national organization of 800 distillers, brewers, winemakers, wholesalers, retailers and collateral tradesmen and is conducting a national campaign in behalf of a model license law.

The object and purposes of the Model License League are to take the liquor question out of politics and to take the lawbreaker out of the liquor business. If there is to be any radical reformation, it is declared, it must be along these lines.

The model license law was formulated by T. M. Gilmore, of Louisville, president of the National Model License League. For years Mr. Gilmore studied the liquor business by personal observation in this country and in Europe, and he selected the best clauses of the best laws of the best-governed districts in the world.

The model license law provides that all liquor licenses in effect at the time of the passage of the law shall remain in effect until suspended or canceled because of violation of the law.

The law provides also that upon conviction for the first offense the li-

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) will give the sufferer from catarrh joyful relief in five minutes.

It is such a remarkable cure, and so positive in its action, that F. B. Johnson & Co., goes so far as to guarantee it to cure catarrh or money back.

A complete outfit, which consists of a hard rubber pocket inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei, and a unique dispenser for filling the inhaler, only cost one dollar, and if an extra bottle is afterwards needed the price is only 50 cents.

Hyomei is a healing, antiseptic balsam, taken from the mighty eucalyptus trees in the health-giving forests of Australia, where disease of the respiratory tract are unknown.

All sufferer has to do is to inhale the antiseptic air of Hyomei over the inflamed parts where the germs are entrenched, three or four times a day.

cence holder must forfeit the right to do business for a period of thirty days, and upon a second conviction he must forfeit forever his right to hold a liquor license in the State in which the license has been forfeited.

Holders of license would be protected from undue competition by that clause of model license law which provides that after the passage of model license law no new licenses can be issued until the population is the proportion of (say) five hundred to each license. This would not only give the license holder assurance of a reasonable amount of trade and therefore a reasonable profit on his investment, but would protect society from the evils that it is claimed result from a multiplicity of drinking places.

The National Model License League does not advocate excessive high license for the alleged reason that such license compels the dealer to handle inferior wares in order to make a profit. The license fee, it is asserted, should be sufficient to give a good revenue to the local and State government without being oppressive.

According to the league's figures, the people of this country drank two billions of gallons of fermented and distilled alcoholic beverages in 1907. The amount consumed in 1908, notwithstanding the slump that the liquor industry suffered with almost every other line of business on account of the financial stress, was about as much as in the year previous.

This consumption is equivalent to twenty-three and one-half gallons of alcoholic beverages for every man, woman and child in the country, and league officials say it would be foolish, in view of this enormous demand to believe that this nation is prepared to give up the use of alcoholic beverages or that the day of teetotalism will arrive tomorrow or next day, or in the next few decades.

CROWN RICHEST IMAGE.

Oaxaca, Mexico, January 19.—The Virgin de la Soledad, Oaxaca's million-dollar patron saint, was crowned here in the presence of what was probably the most notable assemblage of dignitaries of the Roman Catholic church ever assembled in Mexico. Pope Pius was represented by Monsignor Jose Ridolfi, apostolic delegate to Mexico, who performed the act of coronation, assisted by Archbishop Gillow of Oaxaca. Several bishops and archbishops, hundreds of priests and thousands of the faithful witnessed the ceremony, which took place at the Soledad church, the shrine of the virgin, which was commenced in 1683 and cost nearly a half million dollars. The robe of the virgin is covered with pearls, diamonds and other precious gems contributed by devotees during the last two and a quarter centuries and has a cost of nearly a million dollars.

The image of the Virgin of Soledad is alleged to have been of a miraculous origin, and was discovered by a native mule-driver about the middle of the sixteenth century. The shrine is annually visited by thousands of the faithful and many miraculous cures are reported to have resulted through the intercession of the patron saint.

The image is beyond all doubt the most valuable, in its material accessories, in America, and one of the richest in the world.

BACON TO SUCCEED ROOT

Present Assistant to Get the Secretary's Portfolio.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Secretary Root, following his election as senator from New York by the legislature of that state today, hopes to be able to attend to some pressing matters in the state department and retire by the end of the week. After he gives up his work in Washington he will go to Hot Springs, Ark., for rest, but expects to return to Washington in time for the inauguration. Upon the secretary's relinquishment of his office, it has been announced semi-officially, Robert Bacon, now assistant secretary, will be named for secretary of state, and he in turn will be succeeded as assistant secretary by John C. O'Laughlin of this city.

Mr. O'Laughlin, who is to succeed Mr. Bacon, in fifteen years' study of American diplomatic and commercial questions has lived in Washington, London, Paris, Berlin and St. Petersburg, and has made inquiries in other countries. He was born in this city thirty-five years ago. Following ten years' service for the New York Herald, he joined the Associated Press. During the Russo-Japanese war he was in Russia and upon his return here joined the Washington bureau of the Chicago Tribune.

Piano Tuning and Rebuilding

As evidence regarding my ability to do strictly high class work and such as will please the most exacting, I submit the following extracts from letters of commendation, coming from such sources as should convince the most critical that my work is of the highest order.

Urbana, Ill., Sept. 24, 1906.

Mr. S. E. Secoy has rebuilt a Steinway Grand Piano for the University School of Music, and his work has been done in an entirely satisfactory manner.

I consider him an unusually skillful workman, and should not hesitate to intrust any tuning, voicing or rebuilding to him.

F. L. LAWRENCE,

Director of the School of Music of the University of Illinois.

I cheerfully corroborate the above.

N. HAY,

Purchasing Agent of the University of Illinois.

Onarga, Ill., Sept. 8, 1907.

Mr. S. E. Secoy has done some very fine work for us in the way of Piano tuning.

His reconstruction of one of our Grands has resulted in as fine an instrument as I ever heard played. His workmanship is thorough in every particular. He has done our tuning for the past year and we have been highly pleased with this as well. He gave satisfaction in this particular to Mr. Sherwood of Chicago, who gave our commencement recital. We commend his work most cordially.

Several of the young people of Walker township met with Bertha Hiner Jan. 14, and formed a Young Peoples' Country Club. They will meet with Miss Jessie Hilligoss Feb. 13, 1909.

Hard to Reach Hodgenville.

Louisville, Jan. 20.—There is some probability that the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, which has been planned for the old Lincoln farm near Hodgenville, Ky., will be held in Louisville, owing to the practical impossibility of handling the crowds between Hodgenville and the Lincoln farm, a distance of three miles.

Wants Executor Removed.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Mary Adelaide Yerkes, widow of the late Charles T. Yerkes, has filed a petition in the probate court asking the removal of Louis S. Owsley as executor of the Yerkes estate. She alleges that he has wasted and mismanaged the assets, and declares that some of his acts were in fraud of the rights of the estate.

Railway Clerk In Trouble.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 20.—J. H. Trimm, a railway clerk of Guadalupe county, this state, pleaded guilty in the federal court here to the charge of abstracting $2.75 from the mails. He was sentenced to serve two years in the Leavenworth penitentiary.

Earthquake In Turkey.

Smyrna, Turkey, Jan. 20.—Eight persons were killed by a sharp earthquake which occurred at Phocaea, twenty-five miles northwest of this city, and at other neighboring towns. Considerable damage was done to buildings at Phocaea.

According to a statement made by Governor Gillett, there will be no legislation against the Japanese at this session of the California legislature.

Rules and Conditions

1. The Merchant's advertisement must be in the Daily Republican on the day the purchase is made.
2. Vehicles, Automobiles, Pianos and Organs, Diamonds or Jewelry of more than $20 in value, Farming Implements or Building Material will not be included in these purchases.
3. All purchases must be for cash, or if you purchase an article, on time within the time limit and pay for it before May 17th, it will be considered a cash purchase, provided the merchant's advertisement appeared in this paper on the day you pay for the article.

4. The $50 in Gold will be divided as follows: $25 to the person having the largest cash amount of purchases during the four months; $15 to the second largest, and $10 to the third.
5. Any irregularity in any one receipt will forfeit the right of the holder to be a contestant, and none of that person's receipts will be considered.
6. All receipts must be handed in at this office, or mailed to us (all postage prepaid) on or before May 22d, 1909.
7. In considering the merchant's advertisement, it must be at least a space of four inches or more.
8. Your weekly or monthly MERCHANDISE BILLS will be considered CASH if you pay for them before the 15th of May, and provided the merchant's advertisement appears in the Daily Republican the day you pay same.

Who Will Be Rushville's Best Patron?

It will be no trouble at all to take a few receipts with you when you go shopping. Let the husband take a few with him for his purchases. $50 looks pretty good.

This Offer is Open to Everybody

Whether you live in Rush, Decatur, Fayette, Shelby or Henry County--trade in Rushville, is all we ask.

According to an interview of the Connorsville Courier with the Rush county chairman of the Prohibition party, Mrs. Leonard, it was she who started the movement of circulating the petition for the county option election, but during the campaign she and the whole Prohibition party was teeth and toenail against this measure. Another Prohibitionist remarked that rather than vote the Republican ticket (and for county option) he would start a saloon. It is the same with some of Rush county's Democrats. During the campaign they fought the county local option question, while now they are fanatical supporters of the measure, even in the face of the fact that the Democratic party is pledged for another measure and the Democratic legislature is at the present time moving towards repealing the county option law. Great consistency this.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

BILL'S WANDERINGS.

(Connorsville Courier.)

A two dollar silver certificate, that started on its wanderings nearly sixty years ago from Laurel came back yesterday and is now in the hands of J. W. Barnes, former member of the fire department.

The note bears every evidence of hard wear, yet it is fairly well preserved—so well preserved indeed that one may easily decipher the date and the name of the president of the bank from which it was issued. The note bears date August 1 1850. It was issued by "The Chance Bank," whose president was A. Helms. Mr. Helms' signature appears in the blank toward the lower margin. A peculiarity of the bill is that one side is blank. On the printed side is a picture of a farmer standing by a watering trough talking to a woman. At the lower edge is a lamb and in the lower left-hand corner are pictures of two silver dollars. A banker has advised Mr. Barnes that the bill is worth two dollars to him provided the bank has not ceased to do business. As a matter of fact there is no "Chance Bank" in Laurel now, and few of the younger people of this community can recall such a bank.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

Strange thoughts that some kids have; and they are interesting, too. Saturday night a young man about fifteen years of age was reading the Scientific American in Demmer's cigar store when of a sudden he ceased reading and calmly and deliberately laid the magazine aside. Then he stared into blank space for several minutes.

"Whats smatter?" one of the boys asked, "read where some of your folks died?"

"Nope!" he answered.
"What then?"

"Just read where some man says he can prove that the stars are not inhabited. Just think of that! And I thought all the time that there were thousands if people up there. Now you see the only people what there are, are here on earth. Gee! That makes me feel lonesome."

The boy was serious about it; but that did not keep three or four from "giving him the laugh" and telling him "to come out of it." Presently he got up and went out, shaking his head and with a sad look on his face as he gazed at the stars.

BY THE WAYSIDE

We don't know what they are talking about but take it that they mean something: We refer to the following from the Greensburg Graphic:

"Rushville is accusing Connorsville of 'going dry with a vengeance.' And the truth is the papers of that city are printing a wail, long and loud, that never before within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has liquid, water, been so scarce. But Connorsville now has a chance to get back at her neighbor, for Rushville's Mayor sound a warning that only six inches save them from a famine and he says investigators (they are not growing so common) will go about and if anybody objects to being investigated it will be taken that 'something is rotten in' Rushville; which is exactly what the President thinks of congress."

ABOUT SKYGACK

During many years an inquisition of intelligence of a high order has been directed against the planet Mars, in the hope of wringing from its secrets the fact that it is inhabited by an order of intelligent beings whose intellect certainly directs and accomplishes great engineering enterprises, such as the construction and maintenance of a vast system of canals by means of which life is maintained.

The subject has been one of deepest possible investigation of learned men, aided by the most powerful of telescopes and the most advantageous opportunities for observation; and of theories and books of speculation and romance from many who have builded their ideas upon the studies of higher intelligence.

Mars and the Martians have been many times before the reading world from the pens of men and women of many countries of the earth. Always there is a yearning to believe that there is on Mars an intelligent life of beings capable of accomplishment of all things necessary to prolongation of breath in the body of the animal life; in fact that there are nations on that planet composed of people who may be called Martians.

"Skygack," a venerable Martian philosopher has been sent to this earth as a representative to make observations as to the doings of earth children.

It is hard for him to understand their aims and purposes and their to him strange maneuvers.

Skygack alighted in Rushville the other day and at once proceeded with his observations. So far he has come across as many puzzles here as elsewhere. His observations and deductions will appear from time to time in the Daily Republican.

Chapter 29

INE days is the period of time allotted the human mind in which to wonder at anything. In New York the limit is much less. No tragedy can hold the boards as long as that where the bill must be renewed three times a day to hold even the passing attention of those who themselves are eternal understudies in the continuous metropolitan performance.

As for Selwyn, a few people noticed his presence at the funeral. But even that episode was forgotten before he left the city six hours later under an invitation from Washington which admitted of no delay on the score of private business or of personal perplexity, for the summons was peremptory and his obedience so immediate that a telegram to Austin comprised and concluded the entire ceremony of his leave taking.

Later he wrote a great many letters to Eileen Erroll, not one of which he ever sent. But the formality of his silence was no mystery to her, and her response was silence as profound as the stillness in her soul. But deep into her young heart something new had been born.

In April the armored ships left the southern drill ground and began to move northward. A destroyer took Selwyn across to the great fortress inside the Virginia capes and left him there. During his stay there was almost constant firing. Later he continued northward as far as Washington, but it was not until June that he telegraphed Austin:

Government satisfied. Appropriation certain next session. Am on my way to New York.

Austin, in his house, which was now dismantled for the summer, telephoned Nina at Silverside that he had been detained and might not be able to grace the festivities which were to consist of a neighborhood dinner to the younger set in honor of Mrs. Gerald. But he said nothing about Selwyn, and Nina did not suspect that her brother's arrival in New York had anything to do with Austin's detention.

As Selwyn came leisurely up the front steps Austin, awaiting him feverishly, hastened to smooth the florid jockey mask over his features and walked into the room, big hand extended, large, bantering voice undisturbed by the tremor of a welcome which filled his heart and came near filling his eyes:

"So you've stuck the poor old gov-

FOR AGED PEOPLE

Old Folks Should be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

With advanced age comes inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver. Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise, there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will cure these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate this claim. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regenerative action upon the dry, relaxed muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wave-like motion which forces their contents onward and outward; thus simulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They also remove all irritation, dryness, soreness and weakness. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience, do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. 36 tablets 25c, and 12 tablets 10c. Lytle's Drug Store Third and Main street.

ernment at last, have you? Took 'em all in—forts, fleet and the marine cavalry?"

"Sure thing," said Selwyn, laughing in the crushing grasp of the big fist. "How are you, Austin? Everybody's in the country, I suppose," glancing around at the linen shrouded furniture. "How is Nina? And the kids? Good business? And Eileen?"

"She's all right," said Austin. "Gad! She's really a superb specimen this summer. Where's your luggage? Oh, is it all here? Enough, I mean, for us to catch a train for Silverside this afternoon?"

"Has Nina any room for me?" asked Selwyn.

"Room! Certainly! I didn't tell her you were coming, because if you hadn't the kids would have been horribly disappointed. She and Eileen are giving a shindy for Gladys—that's Gerald's new acquisition, you know. So if you don't mind butting into a baby show we'll run down. It's only the younger bunch from Hitherwood House and Brookminster. What do you say, Phil?"

Selwyn said that he would go, hesitating before consenting. A curious feeling of age and grayness had suddenly come over him, a hint of fatigue, of consciousness that much of life lay behind him.

So Austin went to the telephone and called up his house at Silverside, saying that he'd be down that evening with a guest.

Nina got the message just as she had arranged her tables, but woman is born to sorrow and helms to all the unlooked for idiocies of man.

"Dear," she said to Eileen, the tears of uxorial vexation drying unshed in her pretty eyes. "Austin has thought fit to seize upon this moment to bring a man down to dinner. So if you are dressed would you kindly see that the tables are rearranged and then telephone somebody to fill in—two girls, you know? The oldest Craig girl might do for one. Beg her mother to let her come."

"Whom is Austin bringing?" Eileen asked.

"He didn't say. Can't you think of a second girl to get? Isn't it vexing? Of course there's nobody left—nobody ever fills in in the country. Do you know, I'll be driven into letting Drina sit up with us—for sheer lack of material. I suppose the little Imp will have a fit if I suggest it and probably perish of indigestion tomorrow."

Eileen laughed. "Oh, Nina, do let Drina come this once! It can't hurt her."

And so it happened that, among the jolly throng which clustered around the little candle lighted tables in the dining room at Silverside, Drina, in ecstasy, curly hair just above the nape of her slim white neck and cheeks like pink fire, sat between Boots and a vacant chair reserved for her tardy father.

For Nina had waited as long as she dared. Then Boots had been summoned to take in Drina and the youthful Craig girl, and as there were to have been six at a table, at that particular table sat Boots decorously facing Eileen, with the two children on either hand and two empty chairs flanking Eileen.

At dinner Drina and the younger Craig maiden also appeared to be bent upon self destruction, and Boots' eyes opened wider and wider in sheer amazement at the capacity of woman in embryo for rations sufficient to maintain a small garrison.

"There'll be a couple of reports," he said to himself, with a shudder, "like Selwyn's chasite, and then there'll be no more Drina and Daisy. Hello!" He broke off, astonished. "Well, upon my word of words! Phil Selwyn, or I'm a broker!"

"Phil!" exclaimed Nina. "Oh, Austin, and you never told us!"

"Train was late, de usual," she said.

Austin. "Phil and I don't mean to butt into this very grand function—Hello, Gerald! Hello, Gladys! Where's our obscure corner below the salt, Nina? Oh, over there!"

Selwyn had already caught sight of the table destined for him. A deeper color crept across his bronzed face as he stepped forward, and his firm hand closed over the slim hand offered.

For a moment neither spoke. She could not. He dared not.

Then Drina caught his hands, and Eileen's loosened in his clasp and fell away as the child said distinctly: "I'll kiss you after dinner. It can't be done here, can it, Eileen?"

Selwyn, beside Eileen, had ventured on the formalities, his voice unsteady and not yet his own.

Her loveliness had been a memory. He had supposed he realized it to himself, but the superb fresh beauty of the girl dazed him. There was a strange new radiance, a living brightness, to her that seemed almost unreal. Exquisitely unreal her voice, too, and the slightly bent head, crowned with the splendor of her hair, and the slowly raised eyes, two deep blue miracles tinged with the hues of paradise.

"Are you remaining to smoke?" asked Eileen as Selwyn took her to the doorway after dinner. "Because if you are not I'll wait for you."

"On the lawn out there—farther out, in the starlight," he whispered, his voice broke, "my darling!"

She bent her head, passing slowly before him, turned, looked back, her answer in her eyes, her lips, in every limb, every line and contour of her, as she stood a moment looking back.

Austin and Boots were talking volubly when he returned to the tables now veiled in a fine haze of aromatic smoke. Gerald stuck close to him, happy, excited, shy by turns. Others came up on every side—youthful, frank, confident fellows, nice in bearing, of good speech and manner.

And outside waited their pretty partners of the younger set, gossiping in hall, on stairs and veranda in garrulous beives, all filmy silks and laces and bright eyed expectancy.

The long windows were open to the veranda. Selwyn, with his arm through Gerald's, walked to the railing and looked out across the fragrant starlit waste. And very far away they heard the sea intoning the hymn of the four winds.

Then the elder man withdrew his arm and stood apart for awhile. A little later he descended to the lawn, crossed it and walked straight out into the waste.

The song of the sea was rising now. In the strange little forest below, deep among the trees, elfin lights broke out across the unseen Briar Water, then vanished. He halted to listen. He looked long and steadily into the darkness around him. Suddenly he saw her—a pale blur in the dusk.

He halted to listen.

"Eileen?"

"Is it you, Philip?"

She stood waiting as he came up through the purple gloom of the moonland, the stars' brilliancy silvering her—waiting—yielding in pallid silence to his arms, crushed in them, looking into his eyes, dumb, wordless.

Then slowly the pale sacrament changed as the wild rose tint crept into her face. Her arms clung to his shoulders, higher, tightened around his neck. And from her lips she gave into his keeping soul and body, guiltless as God gave it, to have and to hold beyond such incidents as death and the eternity that no man clings to save in the arms of such as she.

INDIANA POLITICS

ROBERT G. TUCKER.
UP TO THE SENATE

That Body Has Heretofore Resisted Popular Election of U. S. Senators.

Indianapolis, Jan. 20.—The joint resolution introduced in the house by Representative Merriman, Democrat of Wells county, memorializing congress to enact a measure whereby the constitution of the United States shall be amended to provide for the election of United States senators by popular vote, calls upon all other legislatures now in session to adopt a similar resolution in order that congress may know the sense of the people in general on this point. The resolution sets forth that the house of representatives has on four separate occasions, passed by a two-thirds vote a resolution providing for such an amendment to the constitution, but that the senate has refused at all times to consider a vote on such a resolution.

Although Representative John Sweeney is getting ready to push his bill to repeal the county local option law, it is apparent that he will have a hard row to hoe. There are some Democratic members who won't stand for the repeal measure until they are assured that there will be something to take the place of the present law. There is a growing sentiment in favor of a law providing for high license with city and town local option. This may be offered as a compromise. In fact, it is said that Senator Fleming and others who are insisting on the repeal of the county local option law, are ready to accept a compromise along the lines suggested. There is not much doubt that the Democrats in the house will vote to repeal the present option law, but no one can tell what the Republicans will do in the senate.

Senator Tilden will introduce a bill in the senate to amend the cities and towns law which would affect the government of cities of the fifth class. He believes that all of the police power of such cities should originate from one source. Under the present law the city marshal is appointed by the mayor and the policemen are appointed by the council. Another objection to the present plan of government is that the people have no higher body to which to appeal when they remonstrate against street improvements. Senator Tilden would amend the law so that a unanimous vote of the council would be necessary to order an improvement over a remonstrance by property owners.

The present session of the legislature will not adopt a bank guaranty law. Senator McCarty, Democrat, introduced one to provide that one-half of 1 per cent of the daily deposits of the state and private banks shall be converted into a fund to protect the depositors, but the legislature will turn it down. The members of the senate committee to which it has been referred will report it adversely. They are of the opinion that Indiana does not favor the guaranty plan, so they will drive a nail into it.

JURY FOUND AGAINST TOM

The Plaintiff Wins in Damage Action Against Taggart.

New York, Jan. 20.—Thomas Taggart, former chairman of the national Democratic committee, took the stand in his own defense in an action brought in the supreme court by Reed Carradine, a former press agent of the committee, who charges that Taggart caused him to be "unlawfully imprisoned" on Sept. 22, 1905.

Carradine testified that Mr. Taggart, after introducing him to a bank cashier, had him taken into custody by a detective until he proved that a check which the cashier had cashed for him was good. Mr. Taggart said on the stand that he had asked Carradine to "make good," but denied that he had caused a detective to accompany him. The jury returned a verdict in favor of Carradine for $2,500.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

A BAPTIST ELDER

Restored to Health by Vinol

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength and am now feeling unusually well." Henry Cunningham, Elder Baptist Church, Kingston, N. C.

Vinol is not a patent medicine—but a preparation composed of the medicinal elements of cods' livers, combined with a tonic iron and wine. Vinol creates a hearty appetite, tones up the organs of digestion and makes rich, red blood. In this natural manner, Vinol creates strength for the run-down, overworked and debilitated, and for delicate children and old people. For chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis Vinol is unexcelled.

All such persons in this vicinity are asked to try Vinol on our offer to refund their money if it fails to give satisfaction.

Vinol is sold in Rushville by F. B. F. B. Johnson & Company.

LEGAL BATTLE OPENED TODAY

The Carmack Case Attracts Widespread Attention.

BOTH SIDES ARE DETERMINED

Services of Tennessee's Ablest Lawyers Have Been Enlisted in the Trial of the Coopers and Sheriff Sharp, Charged With the Shooting of Former Senator Carmack, and a Brilliant Legal Battle Is Promised—Opening of the Trial at Nashville Today Marked by an Attendance That Tested the Capacity of the Court Room.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 20.—Probably never before in the history of Nashville has there been seen so brilliant an array of men of law or so crowded a courtroom as witnessed the calling today for trial of Duncan B. Cooper, Robin Cooper and John D. Sharp for the shooting in November last of former Senator Edward Ward Carmack. The case was called in the county courthouse before Judge William M. Hart.

The prominence of the men involved in the case has spread its ramifications into the state capital and the United States senate. It has kept the entire state of Tennessee on edge since fiery, impetuous, unfortunate Carmack fell on the street before the pistol of young Robin Cooper, a victim of his unfortunate propensity for holding up to public scorn his political opponents.

Prominent Men In the Case.

Among the men who will testify to the circumstances that led to the tragedy will in all likelihood be Governor Patterson of Tennessee, Senator James B. Frazier and others conspicuous in the public life of the state.

From all parts of Tennessee have come friends of the dead senator, intent on assisting the prosecution in avenging his death. A prominent figure among these men today is Guston T. Fitzhugh of Memphis, a leading lawyer, who is serving as a volunteer counsel for the prosecution under Prosecutor Jeff McCann. On the other hand, the Coopers, father and son, have the backing of political and personal friendship among the members of the Tennessee bar, and John D. Sharp, codefendant in the case, who was formerly sheriff of Davidson county, in which Nashville is situated, commands the services of able attorneys.

It is the universal prediction here that a legal battle such as has not been seen in Tennessee in many years will follow the opening of the case in court today. The principal attorneys for the defense are J. M. Anderson, General W. H. Washington, James K. Bradford and M. H. Weeks.

Messinans Taking Heart.

Messina, Jan. 20.—In spite of adverse circumstances, the outskirts of the city where the refugees have gathered are beginning to take on something of a businesslike appearance. Primitive shops have been established in any broken-down hole, where all manner of things can be purchased. Excavations for the recovery of property are going on steadily. At the cathedral pictures and tapestries have been found, many in an excellent state of preservation.

King Rejects Proposition.

the senate of the United States. Shively received 83 votes and Hemenway 67. Mr. Shively was then introduced as the next senator. He followed with a set speech expressing his appreciation of the high honor and promising to represent the state to the best of his ability. He will take office March 4.

Mr. Shively is a lawyer of South Bend and has been prominent in Indiana politics for many years. He ran for governor in 1896 and twice has received the complimentary vote of his party associates in the legislature when a United States senator was elected. He served in the Forty-eighth.

For Agricultural Schools.

In response to a request from many quarters of the state, Senator Ezra Mattingly will introduce a bill in the senate today to establish schools for the instruction of agriculture and domestic economy, to be under the direct supervision of president, trustees and dean of the agriculture college of Purdue university. The question of establishing the schools will be put to the voters of each county at a special election, when the county commissioners are petitioned for such an election by 500 voters of the county.

Under the provision of the bill the county commissioners are authorized to equip and maintain the school if a majority of the voters desire to have it established, and the county council is authorized to appropriate a sufficient sum to equip and maintain the institution.

It is provided that in no county the equipment of the school shall cost more than $50,000, and that its maintenance shall not be more than $5,000 for one year. Each school will have a tract of not less than ten acres of land, to be used for experimental purposes. The subjects to be taught include elements of agriculture, the care and cultivation of the soil, manual training, domestic economy and a system of farm accounts.

Senator Samuel Benz introduced a bill this morning to abolish the office of county trustee officer. The provisions of the bill are such that school officers and teachers are required to make a report to the township trustee of the number and names of absent pupils and the trustee will perform the duties of the trustee officer. Senator Benz believes that the trustee officer has something of a sinecure.

Costly Blaze at Toledo.

Toledo, O., Jan. 20.—Toledo last night was visited by the most serious fire in many years. Flames starting in the basement of the Brown, Enger & Hull Book company store entirely gutted the large four-story building occupied by that firm and communicated to the building occupied by the Hudson Dry Goods company, which was also completely destroyed. Adjoining buildings were damaged and the total loss is estimated at above a quarter million dollars.

SENATE DOUBLES PRESIDENT'S PAY

Other Examples of Generosity of Upper House.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The salary of the president of the United States was fixed at $100,000 per annum, so far as the senate could fix it, and salaries of the vice president and the speaker of the house of representatives at $15,000 each. The amendment increasing the salary of the president to $100,000 was adopted by a vote of 35 to 30. The Republican senators who voted against the increase were Beveridge, Borah, Brown, Burkett, Clapp, Dooliver, La Follette and Piles. No Democratic senators voted in favor of the increase.

The salary of the chief justice of the supreme court of the United States was increased from $13,000 to $15,000 per annum, and those of associate justices from $12,500 to $14,500. These changes were made as amendments to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, and after an extended debate. Amendments allowing $5,000 to the vice president and the speaker of the house for horses and carriages were stricken from the bill.

Senator Rayner's resolution calling on the attorney general for information concerning the suit he purposes bringing against certain newspapers on the charge of libel in connection with statements made in relation to the purchase by the United States of the Panama canal property was referred to the committee on the judiciary after a strong fight to have it adopted without such reference. Enormous pension bills were passed.

Doings in the House.

Disposing of the speech of Representative Willett of New York attacking the president by referring it to a special committee, the house proceeded to take up the various appropriation bills that have been reported within the past few days. The pensions and urgent deficiency bills were passed out without delay and the naval appropriations bill was taken under consideration. The pensions appropriations bill abolishes all but one of the eighteen pension agencies throughout the country, and carries a total appropriation of $160,869,000. The urgent deficiency bill carries appropriations amounting to $1,026,402. The naval appropriations bill carries an appropriation of $135,662,888.

A message from the president recommending an appropriation of $20,000 for a commission to investigate conditions in the republic of Liberia, Africa, was read.

TROUBLE AHEAD ON ELECTION BOARDS

Lop-Sided Sentiment Prevails in Fayette County—Who Will Serve Wets?

ARE IN PECULIAR DILEMMA

A peculiar condition exists in one township in this county says the Connersville Courier that may cause some embarrassment at the coming option election should one be called, which now seems most probable.

The law says that the commissioners "when possible," should choose a judge and clerk who shall be opposed to the prohibition of liquor sales in their county.

A careful canvas has been made in this township to ascertain the sentiment and it is reported that in all the townships but two men have been found who favor saloons. These men however are said to be incompetent to serve. However, the "if possible" clause in the law would seem to leave the way open for the appointment of someone else, if need be. Exactly the same conditions have been revealed in two townships in Tipton county.

SERIES OF GAMES TO BE ARRANGED

Connersville and Rushville Bowlers May Compete For Honors Soon.

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED

Much interest is manifested in Rushville lately over the bowling society that has been organized there, says the Connersville Courier. Harry Boyd, formerly of Connersville, is at the head of the movement and is starting out successfully with the venture. Mr. Boyd is in correspondence with Joseph Jessop, who conducts the alleys on West Fifth street, with a view to arranging a series of games to be played in both Rushville and in this city. Mr. Jessop stated yesterday afternoon that while he was uncertain as to the outcome of proposed series, he thought that interest in this form of amusement could again be revived in Connersville. The number of games to be played have not yet been determined, but when they will have been decided on the managers of the two alleys will also decide on a handsome prize that will be given to the winning team.

PROCLAIM CUBAN PRESIDENT.

Havana, Jan. 20.—General Jose Miguel Gomez was proclaimed president and Alfredo Zayas vice president of the Cuban republic at the session of the new congress today. The formal inauguration of the officials and re-establishment of the republic as an independent government will take place a week from tomorrow.

Preparations for turning over the machinery of the government to the machinery of the government to the incoming president are practically complete. Not the least disturbance in the governmental functions will attend the transfer of authority immediately on General Gomez taking the inaugural oath at noon on Jan. 28.

AMUSEMENTS

One big long laugh at the Vaudet tonight. The program is just full of fun as the only subject is a comic one. "The Jester" is the title of the film and Miss Clara Gregg will sing "Have I Made a Hit With You." Large crowds continue to attend all of the shows.

"After Many Years," the film that will be shown at the Grand theater tonight, portrays the life of two lovers and is very similar to Enoch Arden, but is even more intensely heart stirring than the original story. The scenes are extremely picturesque and some of the incidents startling in their lucidness. It is the story of a sailor who is shipwrecked on a desolate island for seven years just after making his sweetheart his bride. He is finally rescued and taken back to his young wife and child. A secondary plot enters into the story which makes it even more interesting. Miss Iva Brown will sing "Think of the Girls Down Home."

Connersville News: The Murray & Mack company of which Clarence Backous and Miss Grace Manlove of this city are members, will be at the Auditorium, in this city, on the night of April 12th. The company was at Los Angeles, California all last week, and is playing one night stands in Arizona, this week.

A college medley, college songs and songs characteristic of different countries, sung in appropriate costume, will make a varied and entertaining program at the Main Street Christian church Thursday night.
